

SOCIETY

THE Country Club was gay last night with people entertaining after the races and with those who have taken part in the tennis and golf tournaments held at the clubhouse. The house was given over entirely to the strangers, and was a veritable bower of beautiful roses and honeysuckle flowers. Nearly all of the dinner parties were entertained at tables set on the terrace and slender vases of bright flowers and soft shaded lights formed most effective decorations. Tea in the afternoon was largely attended, and a fashionable contingent crowded the club rooms for the informal hop that followed.

All in a brilliant blaze—bright sunshine and a fine sport, with a big crowd in which handsomely groomed women, dressed in the latest in fashion, were seen on each event—the spring meeting of the Virginia Horse Show Racing Association was opened yesterday. Many prominent Richmond women and a great many well known and distinguished visitors attended the races, and the dressing, entirely in keeping with the weather, was very brilliant and a great many handsome gowns were worn in the boxes and grandstands. The officers of the United States Army were well represented, and altogether it was one of the gayest events of the spring season.

Society has been quite busy lately over the announcement of many important engagements and approaching weddings that have recently been made. Indeed, brides these days seem to have cast aside all superstition concerning the month of May and have filled the social calendar for the past town. They also were hosts at cards for their house guests last Monday evening, when three tables were entertained. Mr. and Mrs. Eppa Hutton, Jr., gave one of the handsomest dinners of the season at the Country Club for Miss Loomis, and other important affairs were given by members of the younger set in her honor.

Patronesses for Plays.
The list of patronesses for the two plays to be given by Ben Greet players on the Richmond College campus on Saturday, May 27, includes some of the most prominent women in Richmond. Mrs. J. Caskie Cabell is chairman of the affair, and is assisted by Miss Frances Scott, Mrs. George Cole Scott, Mrs. Clarence Millhiser, Mrs. William H. White, Mrs. J. Allison Hodges, Mrs. Charles L. Borden, Mrs. Ormond Young, Mrs. Hunsdon Cary, Miss Caroline Armstrong, Mrs. Edmund Strudwick, Mrs. Milton Marcuse, Mrs. Hugh Skipwith, Mrs. Sam Cohen and Mrs. Robert G. Cabell.

Those asked as patrons for the occasion are: Mesdames John Skelton Williams, John Coke, Jr., William Todd, Dullam Barksdale, William Northrop, Armistead Wellford, Alston Cabell, Jordan Leake, Charles Robins, M. C. Patterson, John S. Harwood, George Bryan, C. E. Whitlock, John Munce, Raymond Gartin, George Warner, Ivan Maltby, Frank Duke, E. A. Hoen, Edward Calisch, Williamson Talley, John L. ## A Showing of Summery Lingerie Dresses at Prices Sure to Please

To have your Lingerie Dress show a decided difference from every other woman, yet surpassed by none in all the desirable qualities of coolness and sheerness, is what we offer to shoppers. And to those who plan their summer wardrobe with thoughtfulness and care as to the expenditure of their allowance—these will profit especially. Every dollar expended will more than do duty here.

Smart, Stylish Lingerie Dresses $5.98

You will wonder how such Dainty Lingerie Dresses could be offered at such a low price. Five styles to select from, in the finest of lingerie and allover embroidery; trimmed in Val. and Cluny lace; all sizes, but quantities limited.

You Will Be Charmed With These Dresses $12.50

Exclusiveness in every line of these stylish Marquisette and French Voile Dresses. Some elaborately embroidered and trimmed in Cluny and crochet buttons. Study them detail for detail. Dresses that can easily give points to those much higher priced. Four styles to select from.

$20.00 Fresh Mid-Summer Dresses $15.00

The reason for such a drop is simple to all—merely the backward season of a manufacturer who closed them out to us at a price rather than hold them longer. Materials of marquisette and voile, with colored embroidery; round and high neck; kimono sleeves; skirt trimmed to match; semi-Empire effect; colors, blue, coral, lavender, rose and old blue.

42c All-Silk 7-in. Satin and Taffeta Ribbon, 21c Yd.

If you have occasion for the use of Lustrous Ribbons—who has not?—will be vitally interested in this offering. The tippy-turvy condition of the ribbon market is the cause of these unusual values. Most all are the very same Ribbons we have been selling at 42c all season. An opportune time for mothers to supply their children with bows, sashes, as well as other uses, at savings of more than one-half.

MISSSES EMILY TILLER AND RUBY FLOYD, Who recently took part in a Shakespearean play given in St. Mary's Hall by Miss Maude Harvey.

several weeks with their nuptials and functions incident to the big church weddings that have so interested the smart set. With the month of brides not quite two weeks off, and the number of big church affairs that are scheduled to take place then, society has re-entertained conspicuously at home and was much in evidence at informal functions last week.

Dividing the honors with the bride and her maids and ever interesting trousseau, is the college graduate, who also is attended with lovely flowers, beautiful frocks and admiring relatives. In some of the big Northern colleges a mere man, so it has been said, has put the spider in the dumping of these young girls by putting a ban on trains and anything but the simplest white frocks at commencements, which, of course, is a long sad tale to the girl with a whole trunkful of the pretty things.

Affairs of Last Week.
Miss E. N. Vaughan was hostess at a club bridge luncheon at the Country Club of Virginia on Friday. Luncheon was served at small tables decorated in pink and white peonies.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Laird entertained at dinner on Thursday evening at their bungalow in Chestnutfield. Baskets of yellow roses, caught with yellow ribbon, and lighted candles decorated the tables, which were set in the dining room. Mr. and Mrs. Laird's guests included Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Fenner, Mr. and Mrs. Young, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Bruce, Mr. and Mrs. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Wherry, Mr. and Mrs. William Hamilton, Misses Amy Werth and Elizabeth Selden, Coleman Wortham and John Pinder.

Mr. and Mrs. John Landstreet entertained at a perfectly charming little folks' party on Thursday afternoon in honor of their small daughter, Quincy Landstreet, at their estate, "Kildee Farm," near Richmond. About seventy-five of the fashionable little people of Richmond were invited, and were met at the car with great wagons piled high with straw, in which they were conveyed to the lawn of the Landstreet place. There was a lemonade and candy booth, with regular "pink and lemonade" and a sure enough gypsy, who told the children all sorts of lovely things about next Christmas and distributed souvenirs in the shape of beads and bracelets. A hokey-pokey wagon distributed ice cream and games amused the children until late in the afternoon.

Leaves for Washington.
Miss Anne Lindsay Lomax, who has been the guest of relatives here for the past several weeks, left Saturday for her home in Washington. Miss Lomax has been a much entertained visitor here, and was guest of honor at numerous functions given recently either at the Country Club or private houses. Judge and Mrs. L. L. Lewis, whose guest Miss Lomax was for the past ten days, entertained at a small dinner on Friday evening in her home (and for several Army officers now in venport, P. H. Mayo, G. R. Cannon, Edward Willis, Scott Parrish, Charles Telling, Caskie Cabell, Llewellyn McVeigh, Lindsey, P. E. Johnson, Fred Pleasant, Stewart Bryan, Taylor, Elverson, Philip Powers, C. H. Montague, Calvin Stewart, James R. Gordon, Hugh Campbell, Henry Cabell, W. M. Habington, Henry T. Meloney, Thomas Cary Johnson, Andrew Pizani, Fred W. Scott, E. Randolph Williams, William Massie, Ashton Starke, W. H. Trigg, William Royall, S. W. Travers, Thomas Scott, C. C. Walker, L. L. Lewis, Egbert Leigh, Jr., Thomas Carter, Preston Cooke, Isaac Davenport, Archer Anderson, Henry Baskerville and others.

Visiting in Richmond.
Mrs. William H. Wright, of Kinloch Farm, Cockeysville, Md., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Warner Moore, at her home on West Franklin Street, for the next several weeks. Mrs. Wright will later go to Petersburg, where she will visit her brother, Daniel Dunlop at his home in that place.

Concerning Mrs. Hammond.
A recent Washington exchange contains the following of interest to society in Richmond:

"Many American women who have titles will be prominent in the social affairs attending the coronation in England. Mrs. John Hays Hammond who has no title, but who is the wife of the special ambassador of the United States to the coronation, will have a conspicuous position. She has had four wonderful gowns made for the coronation, including one for the coronation proper, one for the gala opera and one for the royal garden party at Buckingham Palace. Mrs. Hammond has found, she says, that she can buy things more satisfactorily in this country than in Europe. 'My tiaras, necklaces and bracelets,' she says, 'have been made in the United States.'"

At the Women's Club.
Miss Katherine Hart, one of Richmond's brilliant young singers, will give her first recital before the Women's Club to-morrow afternoon at 6 o'clock. Miss Hart possesses a beautiful and flexible soprano voice, with an exceptionally good range. She is a pupil of Howard Duane Bryant. Miss Myrtle Redford will preside at the piano.

A brilliant assemblage gathered at the Women's Club on Thursday evening of last week, on the occasion of the last card tournament of the season. Bridge was played, nineteen tables being set. In the contest, which resulted in the victory of Dr. Gilder, sleeves and W. L. Allen, handsome collation was served after the game.

Attractive House Party.
A most delightful house party, which has been in progress for ten days at Ocean View, was brought to a close last week. The chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. O. S. King, of Rescue, Va.; Mrs. E. M. Denny, of Rescue, Va.; and Mrs. P. B. Parker, of Norfolk. The party included Misses Elizabeth, Ellis and Nancy Jordan, Carrie and Elizabeth Johnson, of Rescue, Va.; Imogen and Patti Jordan, of Norfolk; and Margaret Denny, of Washington, D. C.; Carroll Bounds, of New York; Lewis Whalen, of Philadelphia; Reeves Haynes, of Richmond; Gus Milby, Joe Baker, Ernest Barnes Sykes, Walter Stott, Cliff Dickson, Edwin Jones, M. B. and L. M. Jordan and John Parker.

Alumnae Luncheon.
Miss Mary Johnston will address the Women's College Alumnae Association on May 31, at their annual luncheon, given in the Jefferson Hotel. Her subject will be "Just Women." A number of alumnae of the Woman's College from all parts of the State will come to Richmond for the luncheon, which is always a big event here every spring.

Decorations will be in the college colors, and the alumnae who attend have the privilege of bringing their daughters to this luncheon. A number of toasts will be made and responded to, and several new and pleasing features will be introduced this year.

Entertains Bridge Club.
Mrs. Boyce D. Booker entertained the Wednesday Bridge Club at her country place, "Fairbrook," last week. After luncheon was served the guests played bridge at tables set out on the lawn, and prizes were awarded to Miss Louise Ramsdell and Mrs. John Mowry.

Decorations for the luncheon were marquisette and pink roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Bradley, of 918 West Main Street, entertained quite a number of their friends on Monday evening of last week, in honor of their fifteenth wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Bradley were assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. F. L. Twining and Miss Bruce Fernyhough. Miss Nettie Willis presided at the punch bowl, which was decorated with a garland of pretty flowers. Decorations throughout were in bowls of roses and peonies.

Meet This Week.
The Helping Circle of the King's Daughters will meet to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock with Mrs. Thomas A. Riddick, Stop 22 on the Westhampton line. A full attendance is urged.

St. John's Circle of the King's Daughters will meet to-morrow afternoon at half-past 4 o'clock with Mrs. S. P. Cowardin, Thirty-sixth and O Streets.

Every member is urged to be present, as very important business will come up at this time. Those attending the meeting may reach Mrs. Cowardin's home by way of the Oakwood car.

Attractive Luncheon.
A very pleasing affair of this week will be the luncheon served at the Elks' Home, corner of Eleventh and Marshall Streets, during the session of the Child's Welfare Conference at the Mechanic's Institute on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. The tables will be decorated with vase of roses.

Features of Mrs. Thurston's Commencement.

Among the spectacular features of the Richmond School of Expression commencement to be held on Monday evening, May 22, at the auditorium of the Jefferson Hotel, will be a tambourine drill in gipsy costume by the members of the half-practical class, and will be led by Misses Lucile Reams and Florence Kidd. The members of the children's class, dressed to represent violets, will present an illustrated song, and the Arion Quartet, Miss Gladys Martenstein, Miss Agnes Cowardin, McKinzie Quales and James Whitte, will render several musical selections. Admission is by invitation only.

Oakwood Association.
There will be an important meeting of the Oakwood Association at 312 North Twenty-ninth Street on Wednesday, May 24, at half-past 4 o'clock. All members of this organization are urged to attend the meeting Wednesday.

Mass-Meeting Friday.
At the mass-meeting to be held under the auspices of the Equal Suffrage League of Virginia in the auditorium of Murphy's Hotel Annex at half-past 8 on the evening of Friday, May 26, it is expected that several prominent speakers attending the Child's Welfare Conference will be present to speak to members of the league and their friends asked to attend the meeting.

Among those scheduled to give three-minute talks on this occasion are Misses Adele Clark, Lou Belle Jones, Nora Houston, Anna Furness, Lucy Coleman, Agnes Randolph, Elizabeth Cooke, Julie Henning and Mary Johnston. Mrs. Todd Dabney, Mrs. John Mace, Mrs. Harvey Clarke, Mrs. George Smithdeal, Mrs. William Strother, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Harrington, Miss Carruthers, Mrs. Rostrup and others. Mrs. Charles V. Meredith will preside at the meeting.
